Engineered
Hardwood
Flooring

White Oak, Arctic White

Walnut, Natural

Made in Germany, Lindura employs a natural, patented process called “Wood Powder Technology” that results in a hardwood floor of unsurpassed hardness and durability while maintaining all of the natural beauty of the species. Lindura also utilizes a unique core board that is comprised of center cut beech and oak fibers that are specially treated with an anti-swelling compound. This high performance, high density HDF core combined with the Wood Powder process provides for a floor with incredible dimensional stability and one that offers performance beyond expectations.
